

PREPARING FOR TOMORROW'S IMPLEMENTING LECTURE-TUTORIALS & RANKING TASKS: YOUR HOMEWORK

These are POST-lecture activities! If you don't do them yourself—before you use them in class—you won't know what to highlight in your lecture and you may stumble when trying to answer group questions.

- Do the Lecture-Tutorial/Ranking Task yourself modeling your answers after what one of your good students, who truly understood, would write.
- Write your answers in English, using words, this is the language your students speak: avoid answering questions by using mathematical symbols and doing calculations.
- While you are working through the activity be mindful of which questions might be a struggle for your students. Which questions are making you struggle?
- Make notes in the margins of your LT and RT with respect to the previous bullet: What question(s) could you ask a struggling group to help them?
